

Cherron Inko-Tariah MBE

Author | Consultant | Editor | Facilitator

The Power of Staff Networks

@posnetworks

@posn_ceo

Cherron is a former civil servant and has undertaken leadership roles in various policy and strategic positions across Whitehall, including working with Ministers and Permanent Secretaries. In 2012, Cherron took a leap of faith and left the Civil Service to follow her passion; staff networks. After publishing her book: The Incredible Power of Staff Networks, Cherron founded The Power of Staff Networks consultancy where she provides a wide range of services. Cherron also founded the National Day for Staff Networks which takes place every May - the first of its kind celebrating the added value of networks.

Over the last couple of years, Cherron has expanded the business to include:

- ENRG Summit – regional events bring networks together
- The Power Hub – bringing people together to Connect, Influence and Thrive
- Let's Talk About Race...and take action - Building R.A.C.E. Confidence
- Reverse Mentoring – Improving Through Inclusion
- The Grey Area - Decoding Inclusion through research

Cherron also speaks on career development, leadership and her journey from being 'overlooked to becoming overbooked'.

During her career, she has achieved a Post Graduate Diploma in Human Resource Management, and a Masters Degree in Employment Studies and Human Resource Management. She studied with the Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development (CIPD) and is also a qualified career coach. In 2011, Cherron received an MBE for her services to HM Government and for her work in the faith community with young people. In 2019, Cherron won Woman of the Community category of the Wise Women Awards. Cherron also served as a non executive director at Homerton Healthcare from 2018 until 2024.

Cherron is also:

- Editor-in-Chief, Black History Month Magazine
- Committee Member, The Baton Awards
- Advisory Friend, Institute of Equality and Diversity Professionals.

